- (p) soliciting or obtaining or agreeing to accept the above illegal benefits directly from the persons and from the persons related to the case or the individual;
- (q) misappropriation or attempt to misappropriate or abetting in the misappropriation of money or property related to the work;
- (r) violation of rules of conduct and disciplines laid down for the service personnel organization and the category of service personnel;
- (s) refusal to obey the legitimate instructions of the superior officer by the service personnel themselves or instigating, threatening and inducing other service personnel to do so;
- (t) failure to protect classified official documents or providing confidential information directly or indirectly to the irrelevant persons;

- (u) writing or distributing books which is seditious for the State and the State Government;
- (v) participating or instigating or abetting in any activity which has an adverse effect on national security and rule of law.

164. In respect of breach of law, the departmental action may be taken against the service personnel in the following conditions:

- (a) being detained in custody by legal action;
- (b) being charged with an offence relating to the misconduct or severely punishable offence;
- (c) being convicted by a court under legal action.

Explanation - In the above mentioned conditions, whether or not to take departmental action simultaneously with criminal proceedings at the court of law, whether or not the service personnel breaches the rules of conduct of the service personnel, violates the departmental disciplines and fails to fulfill duties should be taken into consideration.

165. (a) If a service personnel is prosecuted or detained in custody for a crime committed out of his duty hours, the relevant prosecuting body shall inform in writing to the head of service personnel organization. The relevant court also has to send a copy of the final order or the judgment to the head of the service personnel organization.
- (b) If the service personnel is to be detained in custody for an act or omission which is legally punishable with an offence or failure to fulfill duties during the performance of duties, the relevant organization has the right to detain in custody only after obtaining permission from the head of service personnel organization to do so. Similarly, the service personnel is to be prosecuted for an act or omission which is legally punishable with an offence which occurs during the performance of his duties, the relevant organization shall prosecute the service personnel only after obtaining permission from the head of service personnel organization to do so.

166. In imposing a disciplinary penalty on the service personnel who is found guilty of committing a disciplinary offence, any one suitable penalty or more than one penalty out of nine penalties prescribed in Section 53 of the law may be imposed by balancing the nature of the offence and the act or omission of the service personnel.

167. In imposing penalty to a service personnel, penalty imposed shall be proportionate with offence and penalty for justice and effective maintenance of disciplines. Although it is to impose due penalty on guilty of service personnel, it should also be done with the aim of reforming the person so as to become a good service personnel and not to impose penalty which causes ruin to the potential of service personnel in life.

Chapter XVI

Departmental Action

168. If the action is to be taken against a service personnel in respect of his action, breach of personnel rules of conduct of service, breach of discipline and failure to fulfill a duty, the decision shall be made first whether to take legal action or to take departmental action or to take both legal action and departmental action simultaneously. If the legal action is needed to be taken, the arrangements shall be made in accord with the relevant law. If the departmental action is needed to be taken, it shall be complied with the stipulations prescribed in this Chapter.

169. Conducting a trial in a court is to hear the case whether or not an accused alleged under the relevant law is guilty and departmental enquiry is an enquiry from the administrative point of view to decide whether or not the conduct of the service personnel is breach of rules of conduct of service personnel or breach of discipline or failure to fulfill a duty or breach of the laws. In respect of taking departmental action against a service personnel who is prosecuted under legal action:

- (a) the departmental action may be taken against a service personnel who is convicted by a court to decide whether or not the service personnel should be imposed disciplinary penalty according to the administrative need by balancing the offence and penalty;
- (b) in the case where the service personnel is not found guilty and so is discharged before framing a charge or acquitted after charging, the departmental action shall not be taken against the service personnel on the grounds that the case is not applicable to the breach of rules of conduct of service personnel or breach of disciplines or failure to fulfill duties or misconduct.

170. In the departmental action, it includes the following administrative measures in addition to the preliminary enquiry and hearing by making the departmental enquiry:

- (a) temporary suspension from duties;
- (b) imposing appropriate disciplinary penalty on the service personnel without making departmental enquiry if it is evident that the service personnel is guilty;
- (c) imposing the appropriate disciplinary penalty on the service personnel if the departmental enquiry is not required in the case of the service personnel who is convicted by a court by balancing the offence and penalty.

171. The person authorized to appoint a service personnel has a right to suspend such service personnel from his duty temporarily. If the service personnel is needed to be suspended from duties, the superior officials who are entitled to suspend may be assigned in accord with on the nature of work of respective service personnel organizations so that the procedures may be carried out efficiently and without delay.

172. If the service personnel who is taken against legal action or departmental action is needed to make temporary suspension, he may be suspended in accord with the provisions prescribed in this rule. Provided that, suspension is not mandatory in all cases. Since the suspension of a service personnel may result in the reduction of labour within the relevant organization and also suffering loss for the service personnel, the service personnel is suspended temporarily with proper care and consideration according to the case.

173. A service personnel who is taken action shall be suspended temporarily in the following conditions:

- (a) a service personnel is detained in custody or being prosecuted;
- (b) a service personnel is likely to be punished with any severe offence such as reduction of pay within pay scale or demotion or removal from a post or dismissal from being a service personnel in respect of departmental action if it is found that he is guilty;
- (c) there is a circumstance in which the service personnel might destroy evidence or amend and cheat the accounts or prejudice the proceedings by using the influence of official position for leading to impediment to find out the truth if he is not being suspended;
- (d) continuation of the service personnel at work without suspending temporarily from his duty may be harmful to the interests of the relevant service personnel organization.

174. If there is a circumstance in which the service personnel who is taken action might be transferred to or attached to another post or to be transferred to the other station without suspending from duty, he may be done so instead of temporary suspension. Provided that, if the transfer to the other station may have negative effect on the right of the service personnel to defend themselves or may arise unreasonably extra expenditure or may create other administrative difficulties or may lead to unnecessary delay to complete the proceedings, the transfer should not be done.

175. A service personnel under temporary suspension shall be entitled to the subsistence allowances and other allowances at the specified rate in accord with the relevant rules, regulations and bye-laws.

176. During temporarily suspension of a service personnel who is taken action, he shall not be:

- (a) allowed to perform any duty;
- (b) granted leave;
- (c) selected to be sent to training in or out of the country;
- (d) promoted;
- (e) recommended to be awarded honorary title or honorary award;
- (f) allowed to retire or resign.

177. A service personnel who is taken the departmental action shall not be suspended from duty for a long time without sufficient reasons. The departmental enquiry shall be completed quickly without delay.

178. In revoking the order of temporary suspension:

- (a) during the course of the trial after the service personnel had been suspended from duty, this order may be revoked by the department that there is no need to suspend from duty according to the findings;
- (b) when reviewing the case after the service personnel had been suspended from duty, it is found that there is no sufficient reason for suspension from duty, the order of temporary suspension shall be revoked;
- (c) when the service personnel, during suspension, makes an appeal against the order of suspension on grounds that he suffers loss and pecuniary difficulties due to suspension, such order may be revoked if it is believed that it is acceptable.

Explanation: A service personnel under suspension shall be entitled to an appeal against the order of suspension for cancellation and revocation at any time. Such appeal shall not be concerned with the appeal against the order, penalty and decision.

179. In respect of allowing the service personnel under temporary suspension to resume the duty after exempting from temporary suspension:

- (a) although a service personnel was originally put under temporary suspension for a sufficient reason, he shall be allowed to resume his duties if the condition appears that there is no need to suspend continuously;
- (b) a service personnel who has been released from arrest or acquitted after being charged by a court:
 - (i) shall be allowed to resume his duties if the departmental action is unnecessary since it is not concerned with misconduct, breach of discipline, failure to fulfill a duty, and breach of law;
 - (ii) may be allowed to resume his duties in such cases that although the departmental enquiry needs to be conducted, there exists conditions in which the enquiry may take place while the service personnel is resuming his duties;
 - (iii) in the case of a service personnel who has been released on bail after being arrested by legal action, the department has to take into consideration whether or not the suspension needs to be cancelled or revoked.
- (c) when the departmental action is completed and the service personnel is found to be innocent or is imposed any penalty other than removal from the post or dismissal from the service although he is found to be guilty, such service personnel shall be allowed to resume his duties.

180. In the case of exempting from suspension and allowing a service personnel to resume his duties, the date of exemption from suspension shall not be mentioned in the order and instead state that “the service personnel is to resume the official duties”. The date of exemption from suspension shall be deemed as the date on which the service personnel actually resume his duties.

181. A service personnel who is prosecuted by departmental action shall be allowed to make a defence in accord with the stipulations contained in these rules.

Chapter XVII

Preliminary Enquiry

182. The purpose of the preliminary enquiry is to scrutinize whether there is reasonable ground to take the departmental action against a service personnel or not, to clarify the unclear points of the case, to collect evidence in case a departmental enquiry is to be made and to uncover the person responsible for the case. The preliminary enquiry may be conducted in the following cases:

- (a) the case which is necessary to scrutinize whether the complaint has reasonable ground or not;
- (b) the case which is necessary to scrutinize which service personnel is responsible and to what extent that person is responsible for the action or omission;
- (c) the case which is necessary to scrutinize whether there is evidence or not so that the service personnel may be taken criminal action;
- (d) the case which is necessary to enquire whether there is evidence or not that the departmental enquiry may be made against the service personnel;
- (e) the case which is necessary to analyze the accounts, the documents and the rules and regulations related to the action or omission of the service personnel before taking any action against him;

- (f) the case which the action or omission of the service personnel is just a minor case and decisions may be made only by preliminary enquiry without making departmental enquiry.

183. The preliminary enquiry shall not be made in the following cases:

- (a) the case which is obvious that the complaint has no reasonable ground;
- (b) the case which has regative contribution to the maintenance of disciplines by making the enquiry;
- (c) the case in which the action or omission of the service personnel is just a minor case and the said service personnel admits his guilt;
- (d) the case in which there is sufficient facts or evidence and so the departmental enquiry may be initiated from the stage of charge;
- (e) the case which is obvious that the service personnel is responsible for any action or omission under the report of audit team and only the departmental enquiry is opened by treating the findings of the audit team as evidence to charge;
- (f) the case in which the imposition of only disciplinary penalty is needed in the light of conviction according to criminal action.

184. If it is necessary to make the preliminary enquiry, the head of the relevant Ministry and the service personnel organization may form the Preliminary Enquiry Board and assign duty as prescribed in Form (3) according to the rank of the service personnel who is taken action. To facilitate the formation of the Preliminary Enquiry Board, the authority to form the Preliminary Enquiry Board may be conferred as appropriate according to the service personnel organization. In forming the Preliminary Enquiry Board:

- (a) the board shall be comprised with the total number of three members-the chair person and the other two members. The members of the board shall be superior in rank to the service personnel who is taken action;

- (b) if it is necessary to appoint the service personnel from the other organization in the board, it may be done in coordination with the relevant service personnel organization;
- (c) the members of the board shall not be the persons who have personal interest in the case, who are directly or indirectly involved in the case, who are personally concerned or who are malicious persons in respect of the case to be enquired;
- (d) the order of formation of the Preliminary Enquiry Board shall be sent to the chair person and the members. In such order, the facts to be enquired into shall be described and if necessary, the summary of the case shall be attached. In addition, the relevant documents, accounts and complaint letter, if any, shall be attached. The date on which the Preliminary Enquiry Board has to submit enquiry report shall also be fixed exactly.

185. The Preliminary Enquiry Board:

- (a) shall make the enquiry seriously as their main duty;
- (b) shall complete the enquiry within the prescribed period;
- (c) may inspect the departmental documents and accounts related to the case;
- (d) may obtain the explanation of the service personnel under enquiry;
- (e) may call and question the service personnel under enquiry;
- (f) may call and question the witnesses;
- (g) may, if the service personnel under enquiry absconds or refuses to be enquired or fails to appear before the Preliminary Enquiry Board without any sufficient reasons, examine the witnesses in the absence of the said service personnel. The examination of the witnesses in the absence of the accused service personnel shall be recorded systematically in the case with the description of the reasons to do so.

186. The Preliminary Enquiry Board, in carrying out the enquiry:
- (a) shall open the case file of the preliminary enquiry;
 - (b) the chairperson of the Board shall explain the case to be enquired and the duties to be performed by the board in respect of the preliminary enquiry to the members of the board;
 - (c) shall coordinate procedures with the members in respect of calling witnesses and inspecting related documents and accounts in order to facilitate making preliminary enquiry;
 - (d) shall, in taking evidence, ask the witnesses after warning to tell the truth. Provided that, they are not asked to take the oath;
 - (e) shall write, in recording the statement of the witnesses as prescribed in Form (4), name, position, the department or the organization and address if the witness is a service personnel and name, the citizen scrutiny card number, father's name, occupation and address if the witness is not a service personnel. The statement of the witnesses shall be recorded in writing or with a typewriter or a computer;
 - (f) the recorded statement shall be read out to the witness. If there are some discrepancies, the statement shall be corrected according to the desire of the witness. If the witness admits the statement given by him, the said witness is asked to sign on the statement. If the witness is unable to sign, the fingerprint of the left thumb has to be taken. The chairperson and the members of the Preliminary Enquiry Board shall sign on the statement of every witness. In the important cases, the fingerprint of the left thumb is also be taken in addition to the signature;
 - (g) if a witness is unable to appear on the date fixed by the Preliminary Enquiry Board due to a sufficient reason, the witness may be allowed to send his signed written statement to the Preliminary Enquiry Board. The chairperson and members of the board shall sign on such written statement with the comment to attach it in the case file together with the other oral statement taken before the board.

187. In making the preliminary enquiry against the action or omission of the service personnel, if it is just a minor case and the service personnel is obviously found to be guilty, but a suitable disciplinary penalty may be imposed on the service personnel at the stage of preliminary enquiry, the report consisting of the findings of the enquiry, the remarks and the recommendations as prescribed in Form (5) shall, after the preliminary enquiry is made completely, be submitted to the head of organization who has formed the Preliminary Enquiry Board for determination of which penalty be imposed. In such cases, the service personnel shall be allowed the right of defence and the witnesses shall be interrogated in the presence of that service personnel and cross questions shall be allowed.

188. If it is found according to the findings during the course of the preliminary enquiry that the case may not be closed at the stage of preliminary enquiry and is necessary to make the departmental enquiry, it shall be submitted its findings and recommendation to the head of the organization who has formed the Preliminary Enquiry Board so that the departmental enquiry may be proceeded promptly without continuation of the preliminary enquiry.

189. In the case file of the preliminary enquiry, the following documents shall be included:

- (a) the order of formation of the Preliminary Enquiry Board;
- (b) the documents, accounts and evidence related to the case to be enquired;
- (c) daily record of the board;
- (d) the explanation of the service personnel who is taken action in the case in which explanation is required;
- (e) statements of witnesses in the case in which witnesses are called and examined;
- (f) other evidence and documents.

190. The Preliminary Enquiry Board shall submit the report consisting of its findings, remarks and recommendations together with the case file to the relevant head of the organization who has formed the board as prescribed in Form (5).

191. In respect of taking action, the head who assigned to make the preliminary enquiry after he and the board had scrutinizing and considering the report submitted by the Preliminary Enquiry Board:

- (a) the case may be closed when the service personnel is found innocent;
- (b) if the action or the omission of the service personnel is just a minor case and there is no need to take the departmental action in accord with sub-rule (a) of rule 193, the suitable disciplinary penalty may be imposed on the service personnel;
- (c) if it is necessary to conduct departmental enquiry under sub-rule (c) of rule 192, the departmental enquiry shall be proceeded promptly;
- (d) it shall be prescribed that if the service personnel is not satisfied with the decision, orders or penalties passed by the head of the organization who has formed the Preliminary Enquiry Board, he may appeal against them within six months.

Chapter XVIII

Departmental Enquiry

192. If it is found that a service personnel infringes the following conditions, the departmental enquiry shall be made to enquire and hear the case:

- (a) having the sufficient facts or evidence to charge the service personnel;
- (b) having responsibility of the relevant service personnel to make an explanation under the report of the audit team;
- (c) being found out that the departmental enquiry is needed to be made according to the findings of the preliminary enquiry;
- (d) the action or omission of the service personnel is being a case which is punishable with reduction of pay within the pay scale, demotion, removal from a post or dismissal from being a service personnel;

- (e) the action or omission of a service personnel who is prosecuted legally is being an obvious case to be a breach of the civil service rules of conduct or disciplines or departmental disciplines;
- (f) necessity for consideration whether or not disciplinary proceedings should be taken against the service personnel although he has already been legally convicted by the court;
- (g) although the prosecuted service personnel has already been released before charging on the grounds of no sufficient evidence or acquitted on the grounds that he is not found guilty after the charge and trial, being the case involving in the breaking of the civil service rules of conduct or disciplines or failure to fulfill a duty or breach of departmental disciplines by the said service personnel.

193. In respect of departmental enquiry:

- (a) if the service personnel is guilty of the action or omission which deserves only a minor penalty which is lower than reduction of pay within the pay scale, demotion, removal from a post or dismissal from being a service personnel, a judgement may be made without making a departmental enquiry and trial. Provided that, if it is considered that there are the facts to be enquired for justice or to be evident legally, the departmental enquiry may be made to enquire and hear the case;
- (b) in the case of the service personnel who is sentenced to imprisonment on conviction where only the order of removal from the post or dismissal from the public service needs to be issued, it is unnecessary to make the departmental enquiry.

194. (a) The head of the relevant Ministry and the organization or the head of service personnel organization of the relevant department may, if a departmental enquiry is needed to be made, form and assign the Departmental Enquiry Board as prescribed in Form (6) according to the rank of the service personnel who is taken action.

- (b) The authority to form the Departmental Enquiry Board prescribed in the sub-rule (a) may be delegated and conferred as appropriate to facilitate the formation of the board in the service organization as may be necessary.
- (c) In forming the Departmental Enquiry Board:
 - (i) the board shall comprise with the total number of three members - the chairperson and two other members. The members of the board shall not be the persons who are the members of the Preliminary Enquiry Board. In addition, their rank should not be lower than the service personnel who is taken action;
 - (ii) the members of the board shall not be the persons who have personal interest in the case, who are directly or indirectly involved in the case, who are personally concerned or who are malicious persons in respect of the case.
- (d) The order of formation of the Departmental Enquiry Board shall be sent to the chairperson and the members of the board. The facts to be enquired about the service personnel who is taken action shall be mentioned in the order and the documents, accounts and evidence related to the case, if any, shall also be attached with the order. The date on which the report to be submitted by the Departmental Enquiry Board shall also be specified in the order. In complicated cases, sufficient time for the reporting shall be specified for the completion of the enquiry.
- (e) When the original Departmental Enquiry Board is needed to be reformed with new members for any reason, one or two of the members may be replaced or the new board may be reformed and assigned thereto.

- (f) In an important case or a case in which specific technical matters are needed to be dealt with, any technician may be appointed as an enquiring officer from the side of the department. Such enquiring officer is only to assist the Departmental Enquiry Board and has no authority to interrogate the witnesses and shall not be involved in decision making of the board.

195. The Departmental Enquiry Board:

- (a) shall make the departmental enquiry seriously as their main duty;
- (b) shall complete the enquiry within the specified period.
- (c) shall charge the service personnel who is taken action as prescribed in Form (7) and allow the service personnel to defend in writing against the charges. Sufficient time shall be given to do it;
- (d) when the verbal hearing is conducted, it shall be carried out in the presence of the service personnel and the said personnel shall be given sufficient right to examine as a witness himself, to produce witnesses, and to cross examine to the witnesses.
- (e) may examine the departmental documents and accounts related to the case.
- (f) may, in receipt of the written statement of the service personnel as prescribed in the Form (8), after scrutinizing the explanation that he is innocent or admission of guilt and, if considered that it is sufficient, prepare a report in accord with sub-rules (a) and (b) of rule 198 and submit without conducting verbal hearing. If considered that it is necessary, the verbal hearing may be conducted in accord with sub-rules (c) and (d) of rule 198;
- (g) if the service personnel objects to one or two members of the board or the whole board, may accept or reject this objection in accord with sub-rule (c) of rule 198 after scrutinizing such objection;

- (h) in the case where legal matters or accounts or other technical matters have to be dealt with, may allow any lawyer or technician to appear to assist the service personnel who is taken action. No interference or disturbance of such person in the departmental proceedings shall be allowed;
- (i) may call and hear the service personnel who is taken action or the witnesses when the verbal hearing is allowed;
- (j) may, if the service personnel under enquiry absconds or refuses to be enquired or fails to appear before the Departmental Enquiry Board without any sufficient reasons, examine the witnesses in the absence of the said service personnel. The examination of the witnesses in the absence of the service personnel who is taken action shall be recorded systematically in the casefile with the short description of the reasons to do so;
- (k) may amend or add to the original charge or frame a new charge, if necessary, according to the findings during the course of departmental enquiry or the subject matter of the case.

196. When the Departmental Enquiry Board opens the case to enquire, the service personnel who is taken action in accord with rule 197 shall be framed a charge firstly. If not, the departmental enquiry is void.

197. In framing a charge against a service personnel who is taken action, in respect of compliance:

- (a) the action or omission of the service personnel who is taken action shall be mentioned exactly and framed a charge. In the case which more than one service personnel are involved, the charge shall be framed separately for each service personnel;
- (b) the service personnel shall be asked for a written statement against the charges. The service personnel is given sufficient time for written statement and date to be submitted shall be fixed. Enquiry shall be continued only after receiving the written statement;

- (c) in the charge sheet:
- (i) one or more charges may include;
 - (ii) the brief description of the allegations or facts on which each of the charges is based shall be stated obviously so that the accused service personnel can defend against each charge;
 - (iii) only the major charges shall be stated because if there are many charges in the charge sheet, the case tends to be more complicated and enquiry and hearing of the case may delay;
 - (iv) it shall be stated that the service personnel is needed to give the explanation in the written statement for each of the charges to indicate whether he is guilty or not, why the departmental disciplinary proceedings should not be instituted against him;
 - (v) it shall include a question asking service personnel whether or not he desires to make an explanation in person and whether or not he desires to be enquired orally;
 - (vi) it shall be stated that the enquiry will be made by the Departmental Enquiry Board and who will comprise therein when the oral examination is made and the service personnel may object to one or two or the whole members of the board with sufficient reason if he desires to do so;
 - (vii) in the case which the service personnel has a previous conviction and it is needed to be taken into consideration, it shall be stated that the previous conviction and its penalty will be taken into consideration in imposition of the penalty if the service personnel is found guilty in the current case. If the service personnel desires to argue that the previous conviction should not be considered in the current case, it shall be stated that he may give the explanation in written statement;
 - (viii) the date on which the written statement to be submitted to the chairperson of the Departmental Enquiry Board shall be fixed;

- (ix) if the service personnel is responsible for more than one action or omission, the charge sheets shall be prepared separately for each action or omission;
- (d) the charge sheet shall be sent in advance to the service personnel who is taken action and a copy of the charge sheet shall be attached to the case file.

198. On receipt of the written statement from the service personnel who is taken action, the Departmental Enquiry Board:

- (a) shall prepare the report of the board as prescribed in Form (9) and submit it together with the case file to the concerned authority without holding the verbal hearing when the service personnel make an explanation that he is not guilty of the offence mentioned in the charge sheet and if the board considered as the explanation is satisfactory and acceptable. The report shall contain the findings, remarks and recommendations of the board;
- (b) shall prepare a report containing the opinion about the penalty which should be imposed on the service personnel as prescribed in Form (9) and submit it together with the case file to the concerned authority without holding verbal hearing, when the service personnel admits his guilt and if the board considered that it is unnecessary to find out any other fact concerning the case;
- (c) may proceed verbal hearing when the service personnel does not admit his guilt or even though he admits, the Departmental Enquiry Board thinks that there are still some facts concerning the case to find out or the explanation given by the service personnel is not satisfactory;
- (d) may hold verbal hearing when the service personnel states in his written statement of his desire to be enquired in the verbal hearing

- or when the Departmental Enquiry Board thinks that the verbal hearing needs to be held to find out more facts to make a decision even though he has no desire to be enquired in verbal hearing;
- (e) in respect of the objection of the service personnel to the Departmental Enquiry Board:
- (i) if the objection is to one of the members of the board, the chairperson and the other member shall scrutinize whether the objection is reasonable or not.
 - (ii) when scrutinizing the objection under the sub-rule (a) (i) and the Departmental Enquiry Board thinks that it is not reasonable, the board shall submit it to the authority who has formed the board and that authority confirms that it is not reasonable it shall be recorded in the case file and the verbal hearing may be proceeded;
 - (iii) if the objection is to the chairperson of the board or to both of the members or to the whole board, that objection shall be submitted to the authority who has formed the board to consider it.

199. The verbal hearing shall be held in the presence of the service personnel against whom the action is taken. In verbal hearing, the service personnel shall be given sufficient right to examine as a witness himself, to produce the witnesses and to cross-examine the witnesses.

200. In a verbal hearing:

- (a) the witnesses who can give evidence to support the charges shall be examined first and the findings are recorded as prescribed in Form (10). If there is some evidence against the service personnel who is taken action, he is allowed to cross examine the witnesses if he wishes to give an explanation;
- (b) then, the service personnel who is taken action is explained the charges and interrogated about them;

- (c) if the service personnel who is taken action wishes to be enquired as a witness himself he may be examined as a witness as prescribed in Form (11);
- (d) the service personnel who is taken action is asked whether or not there are the witnesses he wants to produce and if so, the list of the names of the witnesses shall be asked for and the arrangement shall be done to be able to examine such witnesses;
- (e) if the witnesses who have participated in the preliminary enquiry are needed to re-examine, they may be called upon and examined;
- (f) the time shall be fixed for the service personnel who is taken action to make a list of the witnesses he wishes to produce. In receipt of the list, the date shall be fixed for necessary witnesses to be examined, and shall summon them to come to the place where the examination will be done;
- (g) if it is not necessary or not appropriate to examine any one of the witnesses in the list produced by the service personnel who is taken action, or if it is assumed that a witness who is impossible to be examined is included in the list with the intention to delay the proceedings, the board may deny to hear such witness. The reasons for the denial shall be recorded in the case file;
- (h) among the witnesses who are unable to come on the appointed date, another date shall be fixed for the examination of the major witnesses. If the statements of the witnesses already heard are sufficient, and such witnesses need not to be heard any more, they may be cancelled from the list of witnesses with a description of reasons for that;
- (i) in the case where the allowance should be provided to the witnesses, it can be provided at the rate allowed by the court. If the accused service personnel submits a long list of witnesses, he may be asked to deposit the amount of allowance for those witnesses in advance or the witnesses who are not considered necessary may be refused;

- (j) if a major witness is unable to come before the departmental enquiry board for a sufficient reason, either the departmental enquiry board or the service personnel who is taken action may send the questions they want to ask in writing and obtain the signed statement of the witness. The statement of the witness shall be read to the service personnel. If there are some evidence in the statement against the service personnel who is taken action and he wishes to ask cross questions, the reply to those questions by the witness may be obtained again in writing;
- (k) in obtaining the statement of a witness, the witness is warned to tell only the truth, if he is not asked to take the oath;
- (l) in recording the statement of the witnesses, name, position, the department or the office or organization and address shall be recorded if the witness is a service personnel and name, Citizenship Scrutiny Card number, father's name, occupation and address shall be recorded if the witness is not a service personnel. The statement of the witnesses shall be recorded in writing or with a typewriter or a computer;
- (m) the statement shall be read out to the witness. If there are some discrepancies, the statement shall be corrected in accordance with the desire of the witness. If the witness admits that the statement given by him is correct, the said witness is asked to sign on the statement. If the witness is unable to sign, the fingerprint of the left thumb shall be taken. The chairperson and the members of the board shall sign on the statement of every witness. In important cases, the fingerprint of the left thumb may also be taken in addition to the signature.

201. According to the findings by hearing the witnesses during the course of the departmental enquiry or according to the statements of the witnesses, the original charge may be altered or amended or added or a new charge may be framed by the Departmental Enquiry Board if it is found necessary. If the charge is altered or amended, the charged service personnel shall be allowed to take some more time to submit the written statement and also to produce the new list of witnesses and to recall the witnesses to examine.

202. The case with the circumstances mentioned under are exempted from applying the provisions contained in rules 194 to 201 concerning the formation of the Departmental Enquiry Board, framing the charge and holding verbal hearing by keeping a record of the reasons:

- (a) the service personnel who is taken action is absconding;
- (b) the service personnel who is taken action cannot be contacted;
- (c) the service personnel who is taken action fails or refuses to be enquired without any sufficient reasons;
- (d) it is difficult to apply any provisions regarding departmental enquiry on account of the extraordinary nature or circumstances of the case.

203. After the completion of the departmental enquiry, the Departmental Enquiry Board shall prepare the report as prescribed in Form (9) containing the summary of the case, charge, findings, remarks and recommendations to the head who has formed the Departmental Enquiry Board. The order of formation of the Departmental Enquiry Board, daily activity of the board, charge sheet, written statement, statements of witnesses and the documents relating to the enquiry shall be included in the case file of the departmental enquiry.

204. The board comprising three members shall be formed to scrutinize and make decision the report of the Departmental Enquiry Board. The head who has assigned to hold departmental enquiry shall perform as the chairperson of the said board. After scrutinizing the report, the board:

- (a) may instruct the Departmental Enquiry Board to make further enquiry for the facts which are still necessary if it is considered that their findings are still insufficient;

- (b) may form and assign a new Departmental Enquiry Board to hold the enquiry again if it is found that there was no justice due to the wrong procedures conducted by the Departmental Enquiry Board;
- (c) shall close the case if the service personnel who is taken action is found innocent;
- (d) if the service personnel who is taken action is found guilty, the penalty to be imposed in accord with the rule 212 as mentioned under:
 - (i) if the penalty to be imposed is under the authority of board which may decide the Departmental Enquiry Board, the decision shall be made in the relevant case file by describing what kind of penalty is imposed;
 - (ii) if the penalty to be imposed is necessary to be submitted to the superior authority, the board shall state the recommendation and submit it to authority concerned together with the case file.

205. In the decision of the departmental enquiry:

- (a) it shall be stated that the service personnel is innocent and the closure of the case is closed if the service personnel who is taken action is found to be innocent.
- (b) if the service personnel who is taken action is found guilty:
 - (i) it shall be stated for which charge he is guilty;
 - (ii) it shall be stated if the previous conviction has been taken into consideration;
 - (iii) it shall be stated which penalty is imposed;
 - (iv) it may be imposed one or more penalties for each charge;
- (c) if the penalty is the one which is needed to specify the period or pay, it shall be stated in accordance with the provisions of rule 212;
- (d) in the case where the service personnel who is taken action has been put under temporary suspension and if it is necessary to exempt from such temporary suspension, it shall be stated that the pay, allowance and duty hours to be allowed under sub-rule (a) of rule 68 or sub-rule (b) of rule 68.

206. The relevant service personnel organization shall issue the decision of the departmental enquiry and send it to the service personnel. In the order, it shall be stated that an appeal may be submitted within six months from the date of the receipt of the order as prescribed in Form 12 if the said service personnel is dissatisfied with such order.

207. The departmental enquiry shall be completed without delay for effective maintenance of disciplines and to avoid deficiency in performing departmental task. The head who has formed the Departmental Enquiry Board shall specify the period to enquire. Such period shall not exceed one year in any case. If the departmental enquiry cannot be completed within such specified period, the chairperson of the Departmental Enquiry Board shall seek the approval of the relevant head to extend the period one week in advance.

208. On request for extension of enquiry with sufficient reasons, the head who has formed Preliminary Enquiry Board or Departmental Enquiry Board shall extend the period as appropriate in extraordinary circumstances. The enquiry shall be completed within such extended period. No more extension is permissible after that.

Chapter XIX

Disciplinary Penalties

209. In taking departmental action, one or more than one penalties contained in section 53 of the Law may be imposed in accordance with the rules, regulations and by-laws.

210. The penalties imposed under rule 209 are:

- (a) Written warning means the warning in writing by describing the offence committed by the service personnel. In imposing such penalty:
 - (i) the penalty of warning shall be stated together with the offence committed briefly;
 - (ii) the penalty period shall be ended on the date of completion of six months from the date of penalty imposition;
 - (iii) the promotion is not permissible during the penalty period;
 - (iv) the increment due is permissible during the penalty period;
- (b) Withholding of increment means postponing the next increment of the service personnel for a specified period within the pay scale. In imposing such penalty, by considering the seriousness of the offence which is committed by the service personnel:
 - (i) the penalty period shall be specified. The penalty period shall be calculated from the commencing date on which the next increment is due;
 - (ii) it shall be specified whether the future increment will postpone or not; if the future increment will postpone, the period of postponing shall be specified;
 - (iii) the service personnel shall not be promoted during the waiting time for penalty and penalty period;
- (c) Withholding of promotion means the postponing of the promotion of the service personnel for a specified period without promoting him on his turn to be generally promoted. In imposing such penalty:
 - (i) the penalty period shall be calculated from the commencing time of his turn for promotion. The penalty will take effect from that time;
 - (ii) the promotion shall be withheld only for completion of penalty period without causing to lose his opportunity for promotion;

- (iii) the increment shall be permissible when it is due during the penalty period;
 - (iv) the position to be promoted shall not be reserved for the punished service personnel;
- (d) Reduction of pay within pay scale means reduction the pay to the lower pay within the pay scale for a specified period by considering the seriousness of the offence committed by the service personnel. In imposing such penalty:
- (i) it shall be specified to which pay is reduced within time scale pay;
 - (ii) the penalty period shall be specified;
 - (iii) the increment shall be withhold during the penalty period;
 - (iv) it shall be specified whether the future increment will postpone or not when the service personnel is allowed to enjoy the original level of pay at the end of the penalty period. If the future increment will postpone, the period of postponing shall be specified;
 - (v) the promotion shall be withheld during the penalty period;
- (e) Demotion means demotion to the immediate lower post for a specified period. In imposing such penalty:
- (i) the service personnel who is taken action shall not be demoted to the immediate lower post of initially appointed post or to the immediate lower post in a different category of posts;
 - (ii) the penalty period shall be specified according to the seriousness of the offence obviously found;
 - (iii) it shall be specified that any pay within the pay scale of the demoted position not exceeding the maximum pay is allowed to enjoy. The service personnel shall enjoy only the specified pay during the penalty period;
 - (iv) at the end of the penalty period, the service personnel shall be reinstated to the original position or to the post of the same rank in other category or to the post of identical time scale pay. It shall be specified whether the future increment will postpone or not in the post to which the service personnel is reinstated. If the future increment will postpone, the period of postponing shall be specified;

- (f) Compensation for the loss means compensation of the whole or part of any pecuniary loss by negligence or breach of orders and directives. The amount of money to be paid shall be fixed by considering the extent to which the relevant service personnel has to take responsibility for the loss and his ability to pay. This penalty shall be imposed with care to avoid the inability of the service personnel to perform duties due to financial difficulty resulting from the large amount to pay in compensation for the loss;
- (g) Not permitting full pay for temporary suspension period or not treating such suspension period as on duty means causing loss of benefits of the service personnel by not permitting full pay and allowance for temporary suspension period or by not treating that suspension period as on duty when the service personnel is found guilty after the completion of the case although the temporary suspension of the service personnel who is taken departmental action is not a penalty under the conditions contained in rule 68. The penalty will take effect from the time of suspension. In imposing such penalty:
- (i) temporary suspension before the completion of the case under rule 172 is just an administrative action and not a disciplinary penalty. However, the service personnel is found guilty after the completion of the case, when the service personnel is not permitted full pay during the temporary suspension period or when the suspension is not treated as on duty which results in loss of benefits such as term of service which is calculated for pension or other service personnel rights, the temporary suspension becomes a penalty;

- (ii) if the temporary suspension is cancelled and an appropriate penalty is to be imposed, the duration of temporary suspension, loss and damaged reputation of the service personnel on account of temporary suspension should be taken into consideration;
- (h) Removal from the post means the removal of the service personnel from his current post on account of the severe penalty convicted by a court or the habitual nature of commission of the offence. In imposing this penalty:
- (i) the service personnel removed from the post shall lose pay and allowances as well as the term of service and pension from the date of removal. However, a gratuity may be applied in accordance with the existing rules, regulations and by-laws;
 - (ii) the service personnel removed from the post may be reappointed later as a service personnel with the approval of the head of service personnel organization;
- (i) Dismissal from service personnel means dismissal of the service personnel who is not appropriate to keep in the service personnel organization on account of the misconduct, breach of disciplines, failure to fulfill a duty, or being convicted severe penalty by a court. In imposing this penalty:
- (i) the service personnel who has been dismissed shall lose pay and allowance as well as the term of service and pension from the date of removal;
 - (ii) the service personnel who has been dismissed shall not be reappointed in any service personnel organization.

211. The following matters shall not be considered as removal from the post or dismissal from the service personnel:

- (a) the service personnel who has been initially appointed in the post which necessitates, according to its nature, to train the service personnel by specifying a probationary period with particular stipulations is removed from service for a sufficient reason;
- (b) the service personnel who has been appointed as an apprentice before confirmation of appointment to a post is removed from service for a sufficient reason;
- (c) the service personnel on contract is removed from service during the contract term in accordance with the terms and conditions prescribed in the contract.

212. In respect of stipulations to impose penalties:

- (a) the four penalties –written warning, withholding of increment, withholding of promotion and compensation for of the loss - may be imposed by the board chaired by the person authorized to appoint the service personnel or the board chaired by the person to whom the authority is delegated;
- (b) penalties or orders of reduction of pay within the pay scale, demotion, not permitting full pay during temporary suspension or not treating suspension as on duty, removal from a post or dismissal shall be made only by the board chaired by the person authorized to appoint the service personnel;
- (c) in order to facilitate the disciplinary proceedings and to maintain disciplines effectively, the authority to impose penalties may be delegated by rank according to the formation and nature of the work of the service personnel organizations.

Explanation: In imposing the penalty of removal from a post and dismissal, the penalty will take effect only after it is approved by the head of the service personnel organization for staff and by the head of the Ministry and organization for gazetted officers.

213. In departmental enquiry, the relevant service personnel organization shall issue the order concerning the penalty imposed. A copy of the order shall be sent to the service personnel who has been imposed the penalty and the facts contained in the order shall be recorded in full in the service book of the relevant service personnel.

214. (a) After the disciplinary penalty has been imposed on the basis of the conviction by a court, and if the conviction of the original court is quashed by an appeal court and the service personnel is acquitted, the departmental disciplinary penalty shall be reviewed. If the penalty is imposed on grounds of the conviction by the court other than misconduct, breach of disciplines, failure to fulfill a duty or breaking the law, such order may be quashed.
- (b) In the case of the service personnel who has been imposed a penalty after instituting separate departmental disciplinary proceedings, even though the conviction of the original court of law is quashed by an appeal court and the service personnel is acquitted, the departmental disciplinary penalty needs not be quashed.
- (c) Departmental disciplinary proceedings shall be instituted as appropriate after or without waiting for judgment of the court.

215. The list of the service personnel who have been removed or dismissed shall be prepared by the relevant service personnel organization and sent to all the service personnel organizations.

216. The service personnel organizations shall prepare the list of the service personnel who have been removed from the post and dismissed from the service personnel as prescribed in the Table 4 and send it to the Department of Service Personnel, Union Civil Service Board and send the copy to the Office of the Union Government. The Department of Service Personnel, Union Service Board shall compile all these lists annually and report to the Office of the Union Government.

217. In respect of appointment, transfer to other department, resignation, removal, dismissal and retirement, the relevant Ministry and service personnel organization shall send the list to the Department of Labour, Ministry of Labour, Employment and Social Security within one month from the date of performing so.

Chapter (XX)

Appeal

218. In departmental enquiry, the service personnel who is dissatisfied with the disciplinary penalty imposed under rule 209 or any order and decision is entitled to submit an appeal.

219. The records of verbal statements of the witnesses in departmental enquiry and the copy of report of the Departmental Enquiry Board shall be provided when the service personnel who wants to submit an appeal requests thereof.

220. If the service personnel dissatisfied with the penalty imposed in departmental enquiry or any order and decision, he may submit an appeal as prescribed in Form (12) to the head who is superior to the disciplinary authority who imposed the original penalty or passed the order or made decision within six months from the date on which the order is received. The appeal submitted after limited period shall not ordinarily be considered. However, the time limit for an appeal may be relaxed if the appellant is able to submit a sufficient reason for the delay. The appeal may be accepted and tried.

221. In submitting an appeal:

- (a) a summary of the case shall be described;
- (b) the facts leading to the appeal and other supporting facts shall be included;
- (c) the appeal shall contain no disrespectful and improper language against the relevant service personnel organization;

- (d) the appellant himself shall sign the appeal;
- (e) a copy of the order related to the case shall be attached;
- (f) the appeal must be submitted to the head who is superior to the disciplinary authority who impose the original penalty or passed the order or made the decision.

222. In respect of the exercise of appellate power:

- (a) the appeal board chaired by the head who is superior to the disciplinary authority who imposed the penalty or passed the order is entitled to make a judgement on the appellate which lies against that penalty or order. If the head of the Ministry or the organization has been involved in imposing the original penalty or passing the order, the appellate board shall be chaired by the said head and composed of the other two members who have not been involved in the disciplinary action;
- (b) the appeals shall be considered and brought to an end at the level of relevant ministry and organization except the appeal by the head of the Ministry and the organization;
- (c) the different appellate authority shall be specified in respective service personnel organizations.

223. In receipt of an appeal request form, the relevant head shall form the appellate board to consider the appeal:

- (a) In respect of the formation of the appellate board:
 - (i) the appellate board is composed of a total of three members - the chairperson and two members. If it is necessary to appoint the service personnel from the other organization in the board, it may be done in coordination with the relevant service personnel organization;
 - (ii) the members of the board must not be lower rank than the appellant. The board shall not comprise the persons who were involved in the preliminary enquiry, departmental enquiry, the persons who have personal interest in the case, or who are connected with the case;

- (b) either when the appeal is found necessary to take time to be heard or when there are a large number of appeals to be heard, in respect of forming the appeal review board with the Form (13) by relevant the head of the service personnel organization and assigning it to analyse:
 - (i) the appeal review board shall comprise a total of three members - the chairperson and two members. The members of this board shall not be lower rank than the appellant. If it is necessary to appoint the service personnel from the other organization in the board, it may be done in coordination with the relevant service personnel organization;
 - (ii) the appeal review board shall submit their findings, remarks and recommendations as prescribed in Form (14) to the head who has formed the board and assigned the task.

224. In reviewing an appeal:

- (a) the appeal request may be dismissed when the appeal request form does not comply with the provisions prescribed in the rules 220 and 221 or it is found out to be the repetition of the previous appeal which has already been done with no new facts;
- (b) if the appeal request form complies with the provisions prescribed in the rules 220 and 221 and has grounds for entertaining it, the appeal request shall be accepted;
- (c) if the appeal is applied to the impose of disciplinary penalty:
 - (i) it shall be scrutinized whether or not the procedures are right and whether there is justice or not in the departmental enquiry;
 - (ii) it shall be scrutinized whether the judgement that the service personnel is guilty complies with the relevant laws, rules, regulations and bye-laws and whether there are sufficient evidence according to the documents and accounts related to the case;

- (iii) it shall be scrutinized whether the penalty is more severe than it should be and whether there is conformity between the penalty and the gravity of the offence committed.
- (d) if the appeal is against the order of suspension or the order affecting the pay, allowance, duty hours and calculation of term of service for the purpose of pension, it is to be considered whether such order should be amended or not.

225. In making a judgement on an appeal by the appellate board:

- (a) if the preliminary enquiry or the departmental enquiry are found not to comply with the laws, bye-laws, rules and regulations and do not appear to be right and just, it may be decided to enquire the case again;
- (b) if it is considered that there is no grounds for setting aside the judgement that the service personnel is guilty and the penalty imposed against him, the appeal may be dismissed;
- (c) if it is found the judgment that the service personnel is guilty is made without sufficient evidence, the offence and penalty may be set aside and the service personnel may be acquitted;
- (d) if it is considered that the penalty is more severe than the offence, it may be altered to punish to a less severe one;
- (e) the penalty imposed in the original proceedings shall not be enhanced in an appeal;
- (f) the pay, allowance, duty hours, calculation of term of service for the purpose of pension for the suspension period when the service personnel is away from duty may be changed as appropriate.

226. The judgement made in an appeal is final and conclusive.

227. The judgements made in the preliminary enquiry and departmental enquiry shall be written in Table (5) and it shall be sent to the head who is entitled to make a judgement in an appeal in accord with the rule 222.

228. The relevant service personnel organization shall issue the necessary orders in accord with the judgement and the penalties. A copy of the order shall be sent to the relevant service personnel and the contents in the order shall be recorded in full in the service book of the service personnel.

Chapter (XXI)

Retirement

229. Except when the term 'pension' is used in contradistinction to gratuity, pension includes gratuity.

230. The date on which a service personnel retires is the date on which he attains the age of 60.

231. A service personnel who is suspended or under investigation due to committing a disciplinary offence or any law, he shall not be allowed to retire until the final verdict is given although he attains the age of retirement.

232. The service personnel who is retiring shall:

- (a) hold a post in a service personnel organization of the State;
- (b) hold a full time post in the organizational set-up;
- (c) his salary be paid by the State budget.

233. The service personnel:

- (a) is entitled to enjoy superannuation pension in accord with the provisions when the person attains the age of 60 except some particular cases under the provisions of any existing law;
- (b) who has attained the age of 55 is entitled to enjoy retiring pension if the person has completed 30 years of service;
- (c) who has completed 10 years or more of service is entitled to enjoy invalid pension when the person is permanently incapacitated for further service with production of medical certificate by the authorized medical board;

- (d) who is discharged from service personnel on account of abolition of his permanent post shall be granted compensation pension either when a suitable appointment for equal rank may not be found or the person does not request for another appointment;
- (e) who has contracted a disease or received an injury or a disability as a result of performing official duties shall be entitled to enjoy an extraordinary pension with production of medical certificate by the authorized medical board.
- (f) in the event of death of a service personnel while in service or after retirement his family is eligible for the grant of family pension in accord with the stipulations;
- (g) who has attained the age of 55 and completed over 20 years of service or who has attained the age of 50 and completed over 25 years of service shall be granted a reduction pension. However, a reduction pension may be granted according to the need of the State although the above mentioned provisions are not fulfilled.

234. The longest term of service of a service personnel for pension purposes shall be from the date the person had attained the age of 18 up to the time of retirement. After attaining the age of 18, the following periods are counted in the term of service qualifying for pension in addition to the period of performing duties out of service:

- (a) paid apprenticeship;
- (b) probationary period;
- (c) joining time;
- (d) temporary suspension while on duty;
- (e) suspension which is entitled to enjoy for pension although the service personnel is not treated as on duty;
- (f) other periods when the service personnel is treated as on duty.

235. The following leave periods are counted for pension purposes:
- (a) earned leave;
 - (b) disability leave;
 - (c) study leave;
 - (d) maternity leave;
 - (e) special leave for conflicts;
 - (f) seaman's sick leave;
 - (g) hospital leave on average pay;
 - (h) medical leave .
236. The terms of service, despite the fact that the posts are in different categories, shall be aggregated for pension benefit of a service personnel. If there are breaks in the service of the service personnel, the competent authority have the breaks aggregated provided that there are sufficient reasons for that. In doing so, the previous term of service must be at least one year.
237. When a service personnel who receive only the gratuity for compensation without earning a pension returns to service, the previous term of service shall be taken into account for future pension if the person refunds the gratuity drawn.
238. When the service personnel who receive compensation pension returns to service only after an interruption, the previous term of service shall be taken into account for the purpose of pension provided that the person ceases drawing pension from the commencing date of the reemployment.
239. The retired service personnel shall cease drawing the previous pension from the commencing date on which he is reemployed. If the service personnel does not cease drawing pension within three months of reemployment, the previous term of service and the one after reemployment shall not be aggregated for the purpose of pension.

240. Although the return to service of a retiring service personnel on invalid pension is not prohibited when he regains good health, that service personnel shall not be employed in the previous department if he was granted invalid pension on the medical certificate reporting that the incapacity of the service personnel was due to the conditions under which he was performing duties. However, he may be reemployed in other departments. His term of service shall be calculated in accordance with the rules 237 and 238.

241. In the case of a military personnel who rendered the military service after attaining the age of 18 and reemployed in the civil service, such military service may be counted as qualifying service by a competent authority. However:

- (a) the military service shall be satisfactory and service entitled to enjoy for pension in accord with the provisions of the military pension rules;
- (b) if the person who did not enjoy a pension and was granted only the gratuity, refunds such gratuity to the State, the previous military service shall be aggregated;
- (c) if there is a certificate issued by the Audit Office of Ministry of Defence that the person has ceased to draw pension and verifying the term of service and the pension and gratuity earned by him, the military service shall be aggregated.

242. Pension may be commuted to lump-sum payment at the rates specified by the Ministry of Finance.

243. In the case of commutation of a portion of pension as lump-sum payment, the present value shall be calculated on prescribed period contained in pension commutation Table (6) based on the age of the service personnel attained on the date of retirement from the reemployed post.

244. The pension benefit shall be calculated on completed years and the fractions of years shall be ignored. Provided that if the term of service is satisfactory in the cases of superannuation pension, invalid pension and compensation pension, the fractions of year:

- (a) the head of service personnel organization may add up to six months;
- (b) the head of the Ministry and the organization may add up to 12 months.

245. The fractions of year of term of service of pension benefit shall not be allowed to calculate in the following conditions:

- (a) the period needed to complete five years for gratuity;
- (b) the period needed to complete 10 years for pension benefit;
- (c) the period needed to complete 20 years for reduction pension;
- (d) the period needed to complete 25 years for reduction pension;
- (e) the period needed to complete 30 years for retiring pension.

246. In respect of calculating the amount of gratuity and pension:

- (a) only the gratuity shall be granted in the following manner if ten years of qualifying service for pension is not completed:
 - (i) in the case of not completing five years of qualifying service for gratuity -

$$\text{Term of service} \times \text{last pay} \times 100\% = \text{gratuity}$$
 - (ii) in the case of completing five years of qualifying service for gratuity but not completing ten years –

$$\text{term of service} \times \text{last pay} \times 150\% = \text{gratuity}$$
- (b) in the cases of superannuation pension, invalid pension and compensation pension after completing ten years and above of qualifying service for pension and in the cases of retiring and reduction pensions, the pension and gratuity shall be calculated as follows:
 - (i) $\text{term of service} \times \text{last pay} \times 1.5\% = \text{pension}$
 - (ii) $\text{term of service} \times \text{last pay} \times 50\% = \text{gratuity}$
- (c) the Ministry of Finance may issue the order and amend the method of calculation for pension and gratuity with the approval of the Union Government.

247. The family of a service personnel includes the following persons:
- (a) the legally married wife and legitimate children if the service personnel is male;
 - (b) the legally married husband and legitimate children if the service personnel is female;
 - (c) legitimate children include legally adopted children and step children;
 - (d) grandchildren;
 - (e) natural parents, brothers and sisters.
248. In respect of the entitlement of family pension:

- (i) natural parents;
- (ii) if there is no parent brother or sister of the service personnel under 18 or above 18 who is pursuing full time education at a university, college or school;
- (iii) if there is no eligible person prescribed in clause (ii), unmarried elder sister or younger sister or widowed elder sister or younger sister of the service personnel;
- (iv) if there is no eligible person prescribed in clause (iii), other elder or younger brothers or sisters of the service personnel.

249. The family pension shall no longer be entitled to enjoy under any of the following conditions:

- (a) the widow or widower of the service personnel remarries;
- (b) an unmarried female or male family member of the service personnel marries;
- (c) not being a family member of the service personnel.

250. In respect of the entitlement of family pension:

- (a) legally married wife or husband and other family members of the service personnel who dies in service before retirement:
 - (i) is entitled to the gratuity equal to the last payment for each completing year of service if the service personnel completed one year service but less than five years qualifying service for gratuity at the time of death;
 - (ii) is entitled to the gratuity equal to twelve times of the last payment for each completing year of service if the service personnel completed five years but less than ten years qualifying service for gratuity at the time of death;
 - (iii) a wife or a husband of the service personnel who completed ten years or more of qualifying service is entitled to $\frac{3}{4}$ of the superannuation pension as family pension which would be earned if it were granted on the following date of his

- death. Additionally, the gratuity equal to $1/2$ of the last payment for each completing year of qualifying service is also entitled to enjoy. Such gratuity shall not be less than twelve times of the last payment. Family pension shall be entitled to enjoy from the following date of the death of service personnel up to the death of the wife or the husband;
- (iv) if the eligible person for family pension is a family member other than a wife or a husband, $1/2$ of the superannuation pension which would be earned if it were granted on the following day of his death is entitled to enjoy as family pension from the date of his death up to 15 years. Gratuity is entitled to enjoy under clause (iii).
- (b) the wife or husband and other family members of the service personnel who dies after retirement:
- (i) if the total amount of the gratuity at the time of retirement and the monthly pension already drawn up to the date of the service personnel's death is less than twelve times the last payment drawn as a service personnel, such lessened amount is also entitled to enjoy ;
- (ii) if the eligible person is the wife or the husband of the retired service personnel, $3/4$ of the pension granted at the time of retirement of the service personnel is entitled to enjoy as family pension from the following date of his death up to the death of the wife or the husband;
- (iii) if the eligible person for family pension is a family member other than the wife or the husband of the service personnel, $1/2$ of pension granted at the time of retirement of the service personnel is entitled to enjoy from the following date of his death up to 15 years;
- (iv) in the case of commutation of a portion of pension to lump-sum pension before the death of the retired service personnel, the person who is entitled to enjoy the family pension:

- (aa) the wife or the husband of the deceased retired is entitled to enjoy $\frac{3}{4}$ of the balance of pension as family pension up to his death;
- (bb) if the eligible person for family pension is other family member other than a wife or the husband of the deceased retired, he is entitled to the family pension which is a balance amount after subtracting the commuted portion from half of the pension before commutation to lump-sum. The eligible period is up to 15 years from the following date of the retirement of the retired service personnel.

251. Any service of the service personnel who resigns or is dismissed or removed from the post is not entitled to enjoy pension or gratuity for the service.

252. In respect of the retired service personnel:

- (a) such service personnel is ordinarily entitled to enjoy in accordance with rule 246 when he retires from the service personnel. If the term of service of retired service personnel is found to be unsatisfactory with sufficient evidence, the pension sanctioning authority may reduce the pension entitled to that service personnel to appropriate amount before granting pension to him;
- (b) the already granted pension entitled to the service personnel shall not be reduced on account of the reason that his term of service is unsatisfactory;
- (c) a retired service personnel shall not be taken action against or punished according to the prescribed rules for service personnel. However, if the retired service personnel commits one of the offences prescribed in sub-rule (u) and sub-rule (v) of rule 163, the pension may be reduced or withheld or withdrawn in full or in part;
- (d) the already granted pension to a retired service personnel shall not be withheld or reduced on account of the offence committed before retirement;

- (e) for the debts of the retired service personnel, pension shall not be confiscated or attached the warrant under a decree issued by a court;
- (f) in granting invalid pension, any service personnel shall not be employed beyond the date when the authorized medical board signs on the medical certificate except an exceptional case. However, the pension sanctioning authority may allow his employment beyond that date as an exceptional case if the authority wishes to do so and the earned leave may also be granted. The total period of such employment and earned leave shall not exceed six months. Invalid pension shall be granted only at the end of that period;
- (g) in abolishing a permanent post and the service personnel is not reappointed to another post, that service personnel shall be informed three months prior to the discharge from the post;
- (h) the pension benefit for a service personnel shall be carried out in accordance with the existing rules, orders and directives at the time of his retirement;
- (i) if it is found that a service personnel is overpaid the amount of pension more than entitled to him under the law, the pensioner shall reimburse;
- (j) if a pension payable remains undrawn for more than one year, the pension shall not be disbursed;
- (k) if the pensioner requests the pension payment afterwards, his payment shall be disbursed from the date of cessation. The Department of Pension shall enquire as necessary and issue a particular order to the bank or the sub-treasury to disburse the money;
- (l) if the pensioner dies, arrears of pension may be disbursed to his legal heirs. The Department of Pension shall enquire as necessary and issue a particular order to the bank or the sub-treasury to disburse the money;

- (m) in aggregating the gaps of service, if a part of previous pension is commuted to lump sum pension, the amount of money calculated with the present value of commuted portion shall be paid back;
- (n) in calculating the present value of commuted portion of pension to lump-sum pension, it shall be calculated on the prescribed period contained in pension commutation Table (6), based on the age of the service personnel attained on the date of retirement from the reemployed post;
- (o) if the pensioner is sentenced to imprisonment, the pension shall be suspended. After being freed from the sentence, his pension shall be regranted. But the pension for the period during imprisonment shall not be regranted.

Chapter (XXII)

Extraordinary Pension

253. The provisions contained in this Chapter apply to all the service personnel remunerated out of Budget, the State Budget whether they are on time scale pay or fixed pay or piecework rates other than those to whom the Labour Compensation Law applies.

254. (a) Injury means inflicting an injury on the service personnel by somebody in any of the following situations mentioned under:
- (i) infliction of injury by assaulting or resisting in order to be unable to perform the duty;
 - (ii) infliction of injury because of anything done or attempted to be done by a service personnel in the discharge of duties;
 - (iii) infliction of injury because of official position.
- (b) Accident means getting injured of a service personnel because of any of the situations mentioned under other than those mentioned in sub-rule (a):

- (i) a sudden and unavoidable injury;
 - (ii) an injury due to an act of devotion to and the discharge of duty in the cases which arise in emergency.
- (c) Disease means any disease which is contracted by a service personnel as a result of an accident in the workplace or an adverse environmental condition.
- (d) Special occupational hazard means the followings:
- (i) a hazard which may cause an injury due to sub-rule (a);
 - (ii) a hazard which may cause an accidental injury while performing any particular duty which has the effect of increasing his liability to injury beyond the ordinary risk of the post he holds or as a consequence of performing such duty;
 - (iii) a hazard which may cause a disease to a medical service personnel because of his duty either to treat a patient suffering from an infectious disease or septicaemia or other disease or to conduct a post-mortem examination.
- (e) Occupational hazard means a hazard causing an injury or a disease while performing duty or as a consequence of performing such duty other than special occupational hazards. If the hazard, however, is ordinarily the common one anybody may experience and the unavoidable condition arising from the work nature or conditions relating to performing duties do not significantly increase the liability of that hazard, such hazard shall not be presumed as an occupational hazard.
- (f) Date of injury means as follows:
- (i) in the case of accident or injury mentioned in sub-rule (a), the actual date on which the injury was suffered;
 - (ii) in the case of disease, the date on which the medical board reports.

- (g) The expression extraordinary pension includes permanent injury pension, temporary extraordinary pension and extraordinary family pension for the purpose contained in these rules.

255. The award of extraordinary pension shall be granted by the head of a Ministry or an organization or a competent authority. In granting the award of extraordinary pension, the degree of default or contributory negligence on the part of a service personnel may be taken into consideration.

256. The competent authority shall coordinate with the Union Civil Service Board in the following conditions:

- (a) exceptional cases in which an extraordinary pension is necessary to be granted whereas the provisions prescribed in these rules are not fulfilled;
- (b) conditions in which an extraordinary pension at the rates higher than those prescribed in these rules or by changing the eligible type of award is necessary to be granted.

257. The extraordinary pension shall not affect any other pension or gratuity for which the relevant service personnel or his family is entitled to enjoy. The extraordinary pension granted shall not be taken into account in fixing the pay of the pensioner on his continued employment or re-employment as a service personnel.

258. No extraordinary pension shall be allowed in the cases mentioned under:

- (a) an injury sustained more than five years before the date of application;
- (b) death which occurred more than seven years after the injury due to violence or accident was sustained;
- (c) death which occurred more than seven years after the service personnel was reported by medical board as unfit for duty on account of the disease of which he died.

259. An injury is graded as follows:

- (a) Injury Grade (1) - permanent loss of an eye or any part of the body on account of special occupational hazard or injuries even more serious than such loss;
- (b) Injury Grade (2) – an injury on account of occupational hazard leading to a more serious injury;
- (c) Injury Grade (3) – an injury on account of occupational hazard resulting in a serious disability which the person may permanently suffer from.

260. Extraordinary pension shall be granted to the service personnel who suffers from the injury graded in Injury Grade (1) as mentioned under:

- (a) pension and gratuity which are entitled to enjoy under the stipulations contained in Table (7);
- (b) the extraordinary pension which is entitled to enjoy from the following date of the completion of one year after the date of injury:
 - (i) shall be at the high rate of extraordinary pension which is entitled to enjoy according to the stipulations in the case of permanent loss of more than one eye or one part of the body as a result of the injury;
 - (ii) shall not be less than at half of the high rate of special pension which is entitled to enjoy according to the stipulations in other cases.

261. Extraordinary pension shall be granted to the service personnel who suffers from the injury contained in injury Grade (2) as mentioned under:

- (a) pension and award which are entitled to enjoy under to the stipulations contained in Table (7);

- (b) in the cases of more serious injury, the extraordinary pension which is entitled to enjoy from the date of injury shall not be less than the low rate of eligible extraordinary pension under the prescribed provisions;
- (c) in other cases, temporary extraordinary pension which shall not be more than the low rate of the one which is entitled to enjoy under the prescribed provisions from the date of injury to the date of completion of one year. Such pension shall not be less than the low rate. However, on production of medical report every year by the medical board stating the continuance of severity of the injury, the temporary extraordinary pension shall be entitled to enjoy after completion of one year.

262. Any of the following awards shall be granted to the service personnel who suffers from the injury contained in injury Grade (3) as mentioned under:

- (a) when the medical board certifies that the service personnel might not have capacity for further service after one year of his injury, the award entitled to enjoy as contained in Table (7);
- (b) when the medical board certifies that the service personnel might not have capacity for further service less than one year after his injury, the award shall not be less than 1/4 of the award to be granted as prescribed in Table (7).

263. In the cases contained in rule 262, the disability resulting from the injury is equivalent to the volume of disability due to loss of any part of body, the extraordinary pension not exceeding the low rate of the one which is entitled to enjoy under the prescribed provisions may be granted by the State instead of award. However, such pension shall not be less than the low rate.

264. Under the following circumstances, the temporary extraordinary pension may be converted into permanent injury pension:

- (a) the service personnel in receipt of the temporary extraordinary pension for injury has had applied for invalid pension on account of that injury;

- (b) the temporary extraordinary pension has already been extended up to not less than five years;
- (c) the medical board certifies that the disability of the service personnel does not seem to lessen significantly.

265. Extraordinary family pension shall be granted to the wife or husband or children of the deceased as mentioned under:

- (a) if the service personnel dies by the act of somebody on account of special occupational hazard or from the injury resulting from special occupational hazard, the award and pension which are entitled to enjoy, an extraordinary family pension not exceeding the rate prescribed in Table (8) and (9);
- (b) if the service personnel dies by the hand of somebody on account of occupational hazard or from the injury resulting from occupational hazard, an extraordinary family pension not exceeding the rate prescribed in Table (8) and (9).

266. If the deceased did not leave the wife or husband, the award which is entitled to enjoy under sub-rule (a) of rule 265 may be granted either to his children individually or collectively.

267. If the wife or husband of the deceased service personnel eligible for the extraordinary family pension and award contained in this provision is also eligible for the family pension contained in Chapter XXI, they have the right to choose their preference type of pension. The choice of the family pension contained in Chapter XXI by the wife or husband of the deceased service personnel shall not affect the entitlement of the children of the deceased service personnel.

268. If the deceased service personnel did not leave a wife or husband or children, the extraordinary family pension which is entitled to enjoy by for such service personnel:

- (a) may be granted to his mother or father individually or jointly. Such award shall not exceed the rate under the stipulations which is entitled to enjoy contained in Table (8);
- (b) may be granted, if failing the parents, to minor brothers and sisters who had been residing with and largely dependent on the deceased. The pension may be granted to them individually or collectively. The total amount of the extraordinary family pension granted shall not exceed the half of the extraordinary family pension which is entitled to enjoy by the wife or husband of the service personnel prescribed rule 265. Each share of extraordinary family pension distributed among the brothers and sisters shall not exceed the rate which is entitled to enjoy by a child who has a mother contained in Table (9).

269. The extraordinary family pension shall be granted from the following date of the service personnel's death or the date fixed by the relevant civil service personnel organization. The periods for which the extraordinary family pension which is entitled to enjoy are as mentioned under:

- (a) in the case of the grant of pension to the wife or husband or mother or father of the deceased service personnel, it is until the death or remarriage of the eligible person, whichever is earlier;
- (b) in the case of the grant of pension to the minor son or brother of the deceased service personnel, it is until the date on which such eligible person attains the age of 18;
- (c) in the case of unmarried daughter or minor sister, it is until the date of her marriage or the date on which she attains the age of 21, whichever is earlier.

270. The grant of extraordinary family pension shall cease when the surviving wife of the deceased remarries. However, when her husband dies in her second marriage and the head of the Ministry or organization or competent authority believes that she gets into financial difficulties, the extraordinary family pension may be regranted in full or in part.

271. When a claim for extraordinary pension or extraordinary family pension arises, the organization where the injured or the deceased service personnel was employed shall send the application for extraordinary pension to the Ministry and organization with the following documents:

- (a) a full statement of circumstances in which the injury was received or the disease was contracted or the death occurred;
- (b) the application for extraordinary pension (injury pension) filled out in Form (A) or the application for extraordinary family pension filled out in Form (B) prescribed by the Department of Pension;
- (c) the medical report in the case of injured service personnel or the one who has contracted a disease;
- (d) the medical report of the cause of death in the case of a deceased service personnel;
- (e) the reliable evidence of the cause of the death if the service personnel lost his life in such circumstances that a medical report cannot be secured;
- (f) the medical report by the Township Medical Officer or competent authority who is delegated to collect the evidence if the medical report as to the severity of the injury cannot be secured;
- (g) the report to be sent to the Department of Pension describing whether the extraordinary pension is entitled to enjoy or not, and the amount of pension if it is entitled to enjoy.

Chapter XXIII

Re-employment of Superannuated Pensioners on Contract

272. In re-employing a superannuated pensioner as a consultant on contract in order to utilize his expertise, the relevant service personnel organization shall:

- (a) submit the case to the Union Government to obtain a decision;
- (b) employ the retiree as a consultant on honorarium other than appointing to a post in the organizational formation;
- (c) employ the retiree each year only for necessary period in accordance with the plan;
- (d) grant the retiree an honorarium prescribed by the State;
- (e) also grant the pension in full which is entitled to enjoy during employment on contract.

273. The retiree who is employed as a consultant:

- (a) shall be entitled to the honorarium as prescribed in the contract at the end of every month;
- (b) if the retiree is in receipt of pension, shall continue to enjoy that pension during the contract period;
- (c) shall be entitled to weekend holidays, gazetted holidays and 10 days of casual leave and the earned leave at the rate 1/11 of the term of service within a calendar year with pay during the contract period. Any unused leave within such period shall be void;
- (d) the proportionate honorarium shall be cut off for any absence from work except being on leave;
- (e) shall be entitled to travelling allowances and daily subsistence allowances specified in the contract for the journey while of on duty;
- (f) in the case of re-employment after retirement without break and the retiree has no chance to enjoy four months of preparatory leave for retirement, he shall be entitled to the lump sum pay for those four months.

274. To re-employ a superannuated retiree on contract, the contract shall be concluded in the prescribed format as in Form (15). The terms and conditions in the contract except those for benefits may be amended or added as appropriate in accordance with the requirement of work.

Chapter XXIVMaintenance of Service Book

275. A service book shall be maintained for every service personnel. The cost of service book shall be borne by the service personnel. It is applicable to all officers and staff.

276. If the service personnel is married, the wife or husband, parents, sons, daughters, brothers and sisters shall be recorded in the service book. If the service personnel is single, the parents, brothers, sisters, nephews and niece and if there is no such close relatives, adopted sons and daughters shall be recorded.

277. The head of the organization is responsible for maintenance of service books. The head of the organization may delegate this duty to an appropriate service personnel.

278. In making entry of the date of birth of the service personnel:

- (a) the date of birth shall be recorded after scrutinizing any of the following documents:
 - (i) birth certificate;
 - (ii) school admission registration;
 - (iii) certificate of passing matriculation examination;
- (b) in the case of service personnel who knows only the year and month of birth but does not know the date, the 16th day of the month of birth shall be deemed as his date of birth;
- (c) in the case of service personnel who knows only the year of birth but do not know the month and the date, the first July of the year of birth shall be deemed as his date of birth;
- (d) if no evidence can be submitted for the year, month and date of birth, the age mentioned in the medical certificate of fitness shall be deemed as the age of such service personnel. However, for the date attaining that age, the date on which the service personnel underwent medical examination shall be deemed as the date attaining the estimated age in that medical certificate. Therefore, the assumed date of birth of the service personnel is the result number by subtracting the estimated age in the manner mentioned aforesaid from the date of medical examination.

279. In respect of the record of prominent features of the service personnel:

- (a) the fingerprints of the left fingers shall be recorded in the service book. A separate sheet on which the finger prints are taken shall not be attached to the service book;
- (b) in the space where the prominent features are to be recorded, the permanent prominent features such as moles, scars, or easily seen or recognized features shall be recorded. Indistinguishable features such as skin colour and face shape shall not be recorded.

280. The following entries shall be recorded in the service book with date and time after scrutinizing with relevant orders, payment claims, and leave record:

- (a) Promotion;
- (b) Increment;
- (c) Transfer;
- (d) Leave;
- (e) Awards;
- (f) Titles and honours;
- (g) Academic improvement;
- (h) Outstanding awards in training courses.

281. Imposition of penalties prescribed in rule 53 and breaks in term of service shall be recorded with dates and periods in details together with relevant order number and date in the service record. A short description of grounds for penalty imposition shall also be recorded.

282. All the entries in the service book shall be examined by the service personnel himself and signed if it is found correct. The head of service personnel organization or the person to whom the authority is delegated shall endorse. The head of service personnel organization or the person to whom the authority is delegated is responsible for making correct entries, endorsing, ensuring the record free from deletion or overwriting and ensuring the amendment, to be neat and clear and endorsing such amendments.

283. Every signature put in the service book shall have a date. When the entries are not correct or illegible, such entries shall be made on a new page. The head of service personnel organization or the person to whom the authority is delegated shall examine the entries annually and put the signature with the date of examination.

284. The service book shall be sent to the Ministry and service personnel organization to which the service personnel is transferred. It shall not be transferred through the said service personnel.

285. When the service personnel is transferred on deputation governing with the external service regulation or on completion of deputation, the service book of the service personnel shall be sent to the Department of Pension to examine for the purpose of pension. After the examination of the Department of Pension it shall be sent back to the service personnel's parent department.

286. When a service personnel is retired, the service book of the service personnel shall be sent to the Department of Pension together with the necessary documents through the relevant service personnel organization. After granting the pension salary, the service book may be provided to the service personnel if it is requested. In providing the service book, the statement that "the record is provided on the request of the service personnel" is written clearly at the end of the records and signed by the head of service personnel organization or the officer to whom the authority is delegated.

287. When the service personnel resigns from the post for a reason other than for an offence, the service book may be provided, if the service personnel requests it, after recording the reason for resignation and that it is provided on request. If the service personnel does not request the service book, it may be destroyed on completion of three years after the resignation.

288. If the service books are damaged or lost for any reasons:

- (a) the new service book shall be compiled by referring to the departmental orders, pay request forms and pay lists. When these documents and evidence are not available, the new service book shall be compiled based on testimonials from the colleagues of the service personnel and in the cases of transferred service personnel, the testimonials from the heads of the previous service personnel organizations;
- (b) in cases where it cannot be done as contained in the sub-rule (a), the service personnel shall be asked to make the detailed entries himself and these detailed records, the testimonials of two colleagues and the affidavit which the service personnel has taken at the relevant court shall be submitted to the head of service personnel organization. Such affidavit shall contain the facts such as whether the service personnel took leave with pay but not in full or leave without pay, whether there were suspension periods or breaks in the term of service. The new service book shall be compiled based on the facts approved and signed by the head of service personnel organization.

Chapter XXV

Miscellaneous

289. If a service personnel fails to comply with the duties contained in Section 10, the head of relevant Ministry and organization may direct to grant reduction pension. If it is failure to abide by the directive, departmental action may be taken against him or her in accordance with Section 38 of the Law.

290. The rules, regulations, bye-laws, handbooks, excerpts already issued and orders and directives issued from time to time relating to service personnel may be continued to be practised as long as they are not contrary to these rules.

291. While the respective service personnel organizations are carrying out disciplinary action in accordance with the provisions prescribed in the rules, they may coordinate with the Union Civil Service Board if it is necessary to do so for the purpose of correct procedures.

292. The Union Civil Service Board may manage the service personnel affairs, with the approval of the Union Government, which are not against the provisions prescribed in the Civil Service Personnel Law or stipulations in these rules.

293. The Union Civil Service Board may, if necessary, amend, add, nullify and substitute the definitions and provisions of these rules depending on a circumstance by obtaining the approval of the Union Government.
